

Ideation Phase
Empathize & Discover

|               |                                                    |
|---------------|----------------------------------------------------|
| Date          | 31 January 2025                                    |
| Team ID       | SWTID-2026-1180                                    |
| Project Name  | Implement Client Scripts and UI Policy (incidents) |
| Maximum Marks | 4 Marks                                            |

Empathy Map Canvas:

| Quadrant | Guiding Question                                               | Observed User Experience                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Impact on Form I                                                          |
|----------|----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SEE      | What does the user visually encounter on the interface? | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Long, static forms displaying every possible field regardless of ticket type.</li><li>• No real-time visual badges, warnings, or inline field error messages.</li><li>• Harsh server-side error banners appearing only after the form reloads on submit.</li></ul>            | Causes visual clutter and forces users to inputs are actually             |
| SAY      | What does the user verbally express about the workflow? | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• "Why do I have to see network and server fields when I am just reporting an email issue?"</li><li>• "Why didn't the system warn me about the invalid phone number before I hit submit?"</li><li>• "I lose my entered data whenever the page rejects my submission."</li></ul> | Highlights high use lack of realtime gu loss of trust in the p interface. |
| DO       | What observable behaviors                               | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Enters placeholder characters (e.g., N/A, 12345)</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Leads to bad data c records, delayed as                                   |

| Quadrant | Guiding Question                                                  | Observed User Experience                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Impact on Form I                                                                         |
|----------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|          | and workarounds does the user take?                        | to bypass poorly targeted mandatory fields. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Re-enters data from memory when server reloads wipe nonsaved values.</li><li>• Leaves forms half-filled or routes requests through offline emails to avoid the form entirely.</li></ul>                                                                 | and low adoption of the platform.                                                        |
| HEAR     | What instructions, feedback, or complaints reach the user? | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Service desk leads emphasizing strict SLA targets and zero-defect data capture.</li><li>• Peers complaining that ticket creation is tedious and prone to repeated validation failures.</li><li>• Technical teams complaining that tickets lack critical diagnostic details needed to start work.</li></ul> | Heightens workplalog records quicklyplatform lacking inclientside validation |

Empathy-Driven IT Form Optimisation Flow

